Whether you are looking forward to vintage Scottish souvenirsand antique collectibles or a shopping spree of latest fashion or exclusive jewellery, Edinburgh has it all.Located in the southeast of Scotland, Edinburgh is the country's second largest city after Glasgow and has been cultural and political hub of Scotland for centuries.

When it comes to hotel accommodation, Edinburgh is the most expensive city in Scotland. Serviced apartments in Edinburgh can be an ideal choice for tourist and business groups because these accommodations are fully furnished with basic amnesties of everyday life. Situated very near to Princes Street and other major attractions, the Edinburgh Apartments for Rentz allow you enjoy the level of privacy which can never be found in hotels.There are 1 to 3 bedroom apartments, suitable for 1 to 6 guests, making them a likeable choice for both business clients and families. Extra beds can be provided on request.

Princes Street is considered to be the main shopping attraction of Edinburgh whichstretches around 1.6 Kilometres and is located south of the New Town. This historical streetwas namedâ€œPrinces Streetâ€•back in 1759 by King George III, in honour of his sons. The street is filled witha colourful array of stores includingsouvenir shops, auction houses, book stores and internationally renowned chains besides some independent jewellery & clothing shops.

The street â€“ mostly closed to private transport â€“ is limited to buses and taxis only; however most of the tourists prefer walking in the busiest shopping areaof the city. This is also the street in which the pending Edinburgh trams will become a constant fixture. Shoppers enjoy the scenic views of Edinburgh castle, Old Town landscape and the gardenswhile shoppingonPrinces Street as there are no buildings on its south side, with all the shops situated on north side.

The gardens on south side of Princes Street are popular picnic spot forboth the tourists and locals tosavour the brilliant floral clock at the foot of the mound, or absorb the picturesqueviews of majesticstructures like the Castle, Sir Walter Scott Monument and the Regent Bridge.The Gardens can be viewed from the shopsacross Princes Street, wherethe tourists can find the best bargains of Edinburgh in renownedstores like Marks & Spencer and House of Fraser. Those in search of vintage goodsfind their requirements met by spending time in theantique stores, auction houses, art galleries and open marketssince any object that is Scottish can be a lovely souvenir andmemento for friends and family at home.
