If you have been thinking about renting one of the many Quinta do Lago villas it is likely you are planning on visiting this area of the Algarve for a golfing holiday. Quinta do Lago is, quite rightly, extremely famous for its golf. There are numerous golf courses in the area for both beginners and experts to practice on and the courses in the region have hosted the Portuguese Open an impressive eight times. However golf isnâ€™t appealing to everyone so itâ€™s fortunate that the surround area can be enjoyed by golfers and non-golfers alike.

A Diverse Region

Quinta do Lago is a diverse region that measures over 2000 acres and with Quinta do Lago villas dotted throughout the landscape you should easily be able to find somewhere that is in an ideal location for you. As well as golf courses the region is home to stunning national parks, tennis courts, and beautiful sandy beaches. In fact the beaches are the second main reason why many people choose to stay in Quinta do Lago villas. The waters surrounding Quinta do Lago are sparkling and the clear blue waters are ideal for those who love water sports such as diving and snorkelling.

Something for Everyone

Due to the diversity of Quinta do Lago no member of the family needs to make compromises. If one member of the family absolutely adores the game of golf but the others would rather relax on the beaches this is more than possible. Quinta do Lago villas can act as a place to meet up after a dayâ€™s activities and with a variety of restaurants in the region the whole family can discuss their day over a sumptuous meal.

The Villas

The Quinta do Lago villas are as diverse as the landscape and offer everything you might need for a family holiday. They range in size and anything from a small secluded one bedroom villa to a six (or more) bedroom villa can be rented depending on the size of your travelling party. Most Quinta do Lago villas come fully equipped with all the facilities you need for a holiday including full kitchen facilities, entertainment equipment and air-conditioning. Many of them also come complete with a private pool which is great for families who want to keep the kids entertained whilst enjoying some rest and relaxation.

Quinta do Lago villas are just like a five star hotel yet offer all the privacy and seclusion that most people crave when on holiday and that a hotel cannot provide. Many people find that after they have opted for a villa holiday they never again want to return to a resort or hotel based holiday again. And with Quinta do Lago villas available for all budgets and all family sizes itâ€™s not hard to see why.
