Article published on February 8th 2012 | Travel Tips

Australian working holiday visa allows young people between the ages of 18 and 30 to have an extended holiday supplemented by casual employment for up to 12 months in Australia. The primary purpose of your visit must be holiday, but you are entitled to seek employment to help fund your stay. Working holiday visa is valid for 12 months from the moment your first entry in Australia. You can leave and re-enter the country as often as you want and remember that the time you spent out of Australia within those 12 months still counts as part of your time allowed in the country.

You are allowed to do any type of work as long as it is temporary or casual work, but you should not work in the same position for more than 6 months without prior permission. You can extend your visa if you have worked in regional Australia as a seasonal or construction employee for 3 months on your first year working holiday visa. Working holiday visa second year allows you to extend your stay from 12 to 24 months and it can be applied for in or outside of Australia.

To be eligible for an Australian working holiday visa you must:

â€¢ Be aged 18 and 30 years at the date of your application

â€¢ Not have any dependant children

â€¢ Have enough funds to support yourself when you arrive in Australia

â€¢ Hold a passport from an eligible country valid at least one more year.

â€¢ Have not receive an Australian working holiday visa before

â€¢ Have not any serious criminal convictions

â€¢ Have medical certificate

Australia is one of the countries with a good quality life, a superb education and health system, a stable economic and politcal environment, clean and safe surroundings, freedom of culture and religious expression and technologically advanced infrastructure and transport system. Many people living in Australia are attracted to employment opportunities in regional Australia. . The cost of living is also affordable because you will find many job opportunities which will allow you to live your life well.

Australia offers open spaces, less expensive lifestyle and the wonderful Australian environment. There are a range of initiatives to attract migrants with particular skills and abilities to many regions of Australia. While living in Australia you can settle within 6 to 12 months depending on your English ability and your level of health and whether you came as a skilled or family migrant. Living in Australia is just great, both as a place to work and live.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/travel-tips-articles/australian-working-holiday-visa-and-living-in-australia.htm - Article Side

Francis - About Author:
Francis is a professional SEM/SEO,link builder and article writer who writes on different niches.a
http://globalvisas.net.au/countries/

Article Keywords:
Australian working holiday visa,living in Australia, working holiday visa

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!