Clients are a Brilliant Priority by Brilliant Transportation

Article published on December 20th 2011 | Travel Tips

As Brilliant Transportation continues to define luxury van transportation, client satisfaction remains our primary objective. We encourage and consider all client feedbacks, and use their input to improve upon our every next trip.

Any occasion for which our clients need private or executive transportation, whether for weddings or honeymoons, a night on the town or long weekend away, or any number of corporate or executive uses, we live up to their expectations by ensuring an unparalleled and personalized van transportation experience, taking into account their expected needs and specific requests.

We understand that our clients donâ€™t have time to waste, and that matters to us. Weâ€™ve designed o luxury vans and transportation services to offer all required features and amenities to provide seamless, uninterrupted travel, as well as every technological feature needed to stay connected with an at-home-feel during travel. Our clients expect more, and weâ€™re consistently meeting those expectations. We are fast becoming the preferred luxury travel option in major cities, including those having our headquarters, New York and Los Angeles.

Our luxury vans and transportation services allow clients to sit back and focus on the point of their travel, no matter if itâ€™s for business or pleasure. This is what sets Brilliant apart within the luxury ground transportation industry â€“ an attention to detail, and to our clientsâ€™ suggestions and requests.

Take a look at just some of the client feedback that motivates Brilliant to continue raising the bar on our own luxury van transportation services:

I used Brilliant for 24 trips from New York to Vermont, and each trip gave our family hours of fun time together in the spacious luxury of a private lounge on wheels.

- Managing Partner, investment management firm

We appreciate your hard work helping with our wedding! People felt much taken care of! Your transportation rocked!!!

- Dylan Lauren, CEO & Founder, Dylan's Candy Bar

I enjoyed whole experience of the trip. Was truly happy with everything and look forward to the next time.

- NBA MVP and All-Star

I had the pleasure of spending almost 9 hours with your driver Paul Lucas. He was extremely knowledgeable of the areas, extremely personable, and he genuinely made my business, a breeze.

- Cory Zelnik

The seamless excellence provided from start to finish made your job look a lot easier than it was, especially with the tsunami of last minute changes.

- R.R., Fortune 50 Event Planner

From New York to Los Angeles, Brilliant clients are able to make the most of their van transportation experience in our luxury vans. Executive clients have expressed that corporate transportation in our chauffeured vans is incomparable, and clients hiring our luxury vans for personal use or event transportation express that they cannot feel relaxed or comfortable enough in luxury vans other than Brilliantâ€™s.
