Indian Railways is the largest establishment of the country. This is the biggest means of transport in India. With trains connecting every nook and corner of the country these are the most easily available means of transport. In India all of the trains run under each of the 16 zones of the country. Some of these zones include that of Northern, Eastern, East Central, South Central, South Eastern Railway, North Western Railway etc. So whether you wish to travel your journey from Mumbai to Delhi or from Delhi to Kolkata trains are considered as the best medium which is easily available.

As compared to that of earlier times today online traveling services have been helping passengers in completing all of the traveling formalities. Getting a seat in the train is the prime concern if you wish to set your journey on the train. There is online facility to apply for the train. Once you have applied for the train you can find the current pnr status using online software available on various web portals free of cost. For checking online facility you need to have internet connection into your PC. However if you are unable to access to the net you can use railway inquiry facility as being offered by the Indian Railways. railway pnr enquiry is easily available and you can access just by dialing the helpline numbers easily.

If you have applied for the reservation of seats in the train you will be issued a train pnr which is printed on the top left corner of the ticket. Train pnr is the ten-digit number which is to be entered in the software. For that purpose you can visit to the official website of Make My Trip where there is the software for current pnr status. You can enter the 10-digit pnr in the software. However it should be ensured in all of the cases that you have entered correct pnr.

railway inquiry facility is also a very useful service. Using this service one can find the pnr status of the application of reservation. In these reservation facilities one can apply for the train services. With trains requiring you to complete various formalities of the journey it is better if you go in for online services.

Facility of railway pnr enquiry through software is easy. As soon as you enter your pnr in the software you can click on â€œGet Statusâ€•. Your pnr status information is displayed instantly. However you can also find railway pnr status using mobile services by sending our ten-digit pnr at 139. You receive instant massage with the details like train name, train number, status of the reservation of seats in the train.
