Kerala is known for its art forms, cultural shows, houseboats and beaches. The best places to visit are the backwaters and the ayurveda centers in Kerala. Kerala tours are essentially visits to the backwaters where you will get to spend a night or more on a houseboat. A houseboat is a crafted vessel that has place for one family and takes you down the canals past small villages and lush landscape. The Kerala backwater tour is a great way to see Godâ€™s own country. The fourteen districts of Kerala are known for their richly gifted scenery and landscapes. Kerala is considered to be Indiaâ€™s most advanced society with a high literacy rate and a perfect sense of culture and tradition. Most families pride themselves on being well educated and are friendly to visitors and outsiders. In Kerala you will never miss anything back home!

Tour packages

Luxury and backwater tours are plenty and can be found at every agent. Kerala tour packages to the backwaters are usually on houseboats or boat hotels on the canal. Cochin and Kumarakom are the best places to visit while in Kerala. Kerala tours boast of beautiful wildlife and vast open scenery. If you are lucky, you will get to see herds of elephant lining up by the canal to water. The houseboat which is smaller than a boat hotel will take you past small villages. You will be able to stop by small markets and taste the spicy foods Kerala has to offer. Have a try at the local shopping and visit the bazaars at every stop. The houseboat is the best way to see the absolute hidden heart of Kerala.

Cultural and enchanting

Kerala is enchanting and full of tradition. People here are friendly and warm. The most important experience you will go home from a Kerala tour is the culture and traditions being followed by the locals. Music and art forms being at the center of everything they do, the locals are hospitable and inviting. Make sure you do not leave without witnessing the Kathakali. This is a dance form of Kerala. There are also dances performed at the temple courtyards in the mornings. To know more, you should find out from your tour guide appointed.

Online agents

There are plenty of ways to book your Kerala tour but the best is the online booking option. This way you know what you are paying for and get confirmed bookings no matter which part of Kerala and what kind of Kerala tour package you opt for. Once you plan out yur route and the kind of tour you will take, book it immediately. This will assure you a place in the tour. Advance bookings are a must while visiting Kerala.
