When one thinks of a honeymoon images of long beaches, palm trees, picturesque sunsets, hand in hand walks along the coasts, long boat rides in a boathouse, lush green hills with tea gardens and so on conjure up. However to come across a place with the coastline and hilly tea gardens wrapped into one is not as see to find as it is to conjure up in ones mind. Such places are rare to find but they do exist and one such destination with picturesque beauty, long coastlines, boat rides on emerald waters, jade green hills, and aromatic tea gardens is Kerala.

Famed for its flowing backwaters and tea gardens this place called Kerala lays in the Malabar Coast of Southwest India. Such is the beauty and charm of the place that anyone who takes a honeymoon here is bound to return for a second honeymoon. Kerala honeymoon package make sure that a honeymoon spent here isn't devoid of any of the flavors of a perfect honeymoon setting.

Whenever a honeymoon is taken the most important ingredient would be the place where a couple decides to stay and what more romantic place may be there to stay than on a boathouse. Floating on the emerald backwaters are a lot of boathouses from which you can take your pick from. The boathouses have rates from standard to luxury stays thus making it available to everyone. Flow gently along the backwaters taking in the fresh cool air and enjoying the sights as you drift along. Small children with innocent smiles on their faces wave to you from the banks making you smile as we all know that smiles are contagious.

There's a bird sanctuary here too just along the backwaters, and one can enjoy the melodious songs of the birds from a canoe as it gives you a tour of the bird sanctuary. The different species of birds that flock here will awe and surprise you with their vibrant colours and cries. Rent a paddle boat at the Periyar Lake and spend quality time with your loved at your own pace spotting animals that come from the sanctuary that surrounds it. If you are lucky enough you may catch sight of a tiger or two that have come to quench their thirst.

Walk on the beaches hand in hand enjoying the picturesque sunset unfold giving way to a moonlit night. To feel the cool sea breeze ruffle your hair, the soft splashing sounds of the waves breaking accompanied by occasional cries of the sea birds, to listen to the swaying palm trees whisper to you as the breeze flow through it and to share such moments with your loved one is simply priceless. Enjoy a romantic candle light dinner inside a cave nearby the caves of Eddakal, something that is not usually found in most parts of the world.

When you think that you need a change of setting to spice things up you always have the lush green hills of Munnar. Take a walk in the aromatic tea gardens soaking in the flavours, trek to Top Station and marvel at the picturesque view of the Western Ghats, visit the Eravikulam national park which is home to the endangered Nilgiri Tahr and the waterfalls of these area.

With all the proper requisites in the perfect blend to create a memorable honeymoon Kerala is the place to be.
