Article Side

Disneyland is Where Dreams turn into Reality for Kids by Robin Mackenzie

Article published on March 5th 2012 | Vacations

Vacation has set in and itâ€™s time for the kids to have a blast. Children live in a world of their own. My son Mark enjoys nothing but playing the whole day. To him, all that matters is quality time spent with his friends. He loves riding his bicycle all day with his buddies. Kids need time to play and enjoy. Itâ€™s not good to burden them with studies from a very young age. Studies are excellent but they need time to play and do the things they love. If you are California, there is no way that you could miss out on visiting Disneyland Park and Disney California Adventure Park. It is a matter of pride that Walt Disney himself designed and built the theme park himself. Walt Disney visited a lot of famous theme parks along with his daughters and then developed a vision.

He wanted to create a unique place of tourist attraction. Initially, he thought of building the park in Burbank. But later on he realized that the place near his studio was too small to build one. So he purchased a 160 acre land in Anaheim California and later started the project in the year 1954. The park was opened for people to visit and a special television press event marked the opening of the Disneyworld. During the course of time, the park underwent a series of changes and renovations and it has been present for numerous tourists who come and visit the park with their kids and family members all year long. It is a matter of pride to say that the park has been visited by around 600 million people and in the year 2010 around 15.98 million guests visited the park making it one of the most visited theme parks ever.

Main Street is actually the entrance of the Disneyland Park. You can either take a walk down the street or hire a carriage to watch the architectural beauty of the place and the beauty of Middle America in the early 1900s have been reanimated here. Some of Disneyâ€™s early shot films can be watched here. Imagine the beauty of America a hundred years back. It would have been so captivating. Isnâ€™t it? Well itâ€™s time to catch all the action back when you visit Main Street. There is a the Disneyland Railroad where you can board and enjoy a ride around the Disneyland Park. It is for sure that it is going to be the ride of your life to watch the magnificent creations of Walt Disney.

Catch the excitement in Main Street with the fireworks glittering over the Sleeping Beautyâ€™s Castle. It will be even more enthralling to watch these wonderful fireworks with the people you love the most. Iâ€™ve always been interested in fairytales ever since I was a child. Who doesnâ€™t love Cinderella and jack and the bean stock? Every person will be fascinated with these fairytale stories which grandmas recited during bedtime. This is just one part of the entertainment.

Disneyland is one place where all your dreams come true and be it young or old, all kinds of people find fun and joy visiting this place. Critter Country is one hotspot that you donâ€™t want to miss. Itâ€™s a place for rustic lovers and you can enjoy fun in its fullest form here. Take a ride inside the Splash Mountains and visit the hungry Bear Mountain where you get the best of food. Indulge in foods such as country fried chicken sandwiches, fried green tomato sandwiches, chili cheeseburgers, chicken salad, sweet potato fries. Itâ€™s a pleasure to visit this exotic location. The last time when I visited the place, I spent almost an hour on my ATT Home Phone talking about my trip with my cousins. It was all worth the effort.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/vacations-articles/disneyland-is-where-dreams-turn-into-reality-for-kids.htm - Article Side

Robin Mackenzie - About Author:
Robin Mackenzie is a freelance writer. She loves travelling and visiting exotic locations all around the world. She likes to write about travel destinations such as Disneyland. In her free time, she communicates with a lot of people about travel using her a ATT Home Phone.

Article Keywords:
ATT Home Phone, Digital Phone, Disneyland

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!