When the majestic Himalayas beckon, there is little choice but to acknowledge the call and enjoy your trip. Such trips can be for a number of reasons and each traveller to the gigantic mountains of India has his/her own reasons. Some go for the sake of the mountains and for this breed of travellers the real fun lies in trekking and mountain-climbing. The adventurous sort goes to places in the Himalayan area for a variety of adventurous sports. Some of these sports include river rafting or white water rafting, rock climbing and rappelling, abseiling and slithering, river crossing and traversing. There are also the pilgrims and for them it is invariably the Char Dham Yatra (pilgrimage to the four holy places) and these places are Yamunotri, Gangotri, Kedarnath and Badrinath. There is yet another group of travellers and these are the city dwellers and for them the call to the Himalayas is for their relaxation! Irrespective of the group you belong to a visit to Badrinath will always be memorable. For your stay in the four Dhams to be ideal you must select the most comfortable of hotels in Badrinath or the other three pilgrimage centers.

The hotels in Badrinath and the other centers were built as a part of a project to offer pilgrims the comforts that were earlier denied to them.
