Biggest cities in India offers various exciting packages for tourism. They are a complete package of fun with adventure and lifestyle.

Various cities:

India major cities include cities like Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata, Madras, and many more. These are the big cities that have a lot many things to explore once a person visits any of these. These are located in almost different corners of the country and thus are a blend of cultures with modernity. These cities are also famous for industries and business. One may choose other India tourism places like Agra and Jaipur as well. These are the cities that are rich in Indian culture. They offer the old monuments that have been preserved to date. Every year there is a huge number of tourists that visit these heritage cities of the country. All these places are on plain lads and are a feast to the eye. They have the whole history of India captured in those monuments. Reaching these places is not a big deal; they are al well connected through road and rail services. Many of them even have air services. There are many travel agencies that are associated with these places. All that is needed to be on done on the part of the tourist is to approach them and make them aware of the budget. The whole plan will be made by these agencies and the person just needs to be there on time so that he or she does not miss on train or bus. Further details about all these cities are available on the internet as well. Since most of them are on plains thus visiting these cities in the winter season is the best deal. A person must get the bookings done in advance since these cities are an excellent holiday destination thus whole year is the rush season for these cities.

Hill stations:

Visiting hill station is something that everyone dreams of in the heat of summers. Due to the elevation factor these places remain cold throughout the year as compared to the rest of the country. Not only are these places suitable for the summer season but also for winter season. People visit hill station in winters to see snowfall. Almost all the hill stations of India that are famous have snowfall in the winter season. The best gift that one can give to their partner whom they just met is Honeymoon in Manali. Not only can a partner give this gift but also friends or family may gift the package to the couple. Apart from this, Simla, Darjeeling, Ooty, Nainital, Mussourie are other hill stations that one must visit. One may also book a Hotel in Kulu and have fun of the greenery all around in that well organized hill station. These are just a few of all those places that one may visit in the summer season to escape the heat of the plains. Manali package tour is something that one must have beforehand because it is a famous place and hence getting a good place to live in may be a difficult task.
