Professional Makeup Artist Qualifications

by Dipakdarji

Article published on April 1st 2012 | Visual Arts

Many wonder about the professional makeup artist qualifications needed to work as a professional. The truth is that the answer is not very straight forward as there are many different professional makeup artist qualifications needed out there and also different routes to take on becoming a professional. Today we'll look at the most asked questions and answers regarding professional makeup artist qualifications which will be a big help for those of you who are wondering about the very same thing.

1. Do I have to have my High School Diploma to work as a professional?

The easy answer is no, however- a diploma will always make it easier for you to work as a professional as you will be taken more seriously and you will also have the general knowledge needed to appear interesting to your clients. But, for those who wasn't able to get their high school diploma due to unforeseen issues- don't give up, you can still study to become a professional makeup artist but the discipline has to come from within you!

2. What classes from high school is required to work as a professional Makeup artist?

No specific classes are required, all though some makeup schools values student with a background in art, sowing, drama and business.

3. Do I need a college degree to work as a freelance makeup artist

No, but a degree will always come in handy, especially degrees in business, arts, drama, marketing, communication and nurse.

4. What license is required to work as a freelance makeup artist?

In most states and countries the title of makeup artist is not protected by law, which means that no license is required- so you should check this up with your state. However, to work in a salon where invasive skin care treatments, nails and hair are done you do sometimes need a cosmetologist or esthetician license. But remember, those a very different jobs than a makeup artist and the training given in these schools are not sufficient to work as a high-end makeup artist.

5. Do I have to be rich to start up as a freelance makeup artist?

Not at all! We require minimal tools, we don't need an office and we go directly to our clients, so getting started is not the hard part- it's keeping the clients you have to put all of your work, talent and passion into!

So there you have the 5 most asked questions about professional makeup artist qualifications and as you see, the opportunities are endless as the professional makeup artist qualifications are not set in stone.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/visual-arts-articles/professional-makeup-artist-qualifications.htm - Article Side

Dipakdarji - About Author:
a titleBecome a makeup artist Become a makeup artist and click here how to choose your a titleProfessional Makeup Artist Qualifications Professional Makeup Artist Qualifications.

Article Keywords:
become a makeup artist, how to become a makeup artist, becoming a makeup artist, professional makeup artist qualifications

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!