How to get a comfortable bridal gown is a very important thing, especially for brides-to-be. The reason is that what kind of dress she wears at the wedding ceremony will affect other's thoughts. It directly reflects the bride's taste. Leave a good impression is what brides what to do at her wedding.

I need to mention that brides should be confident of her body. Maybe some brides would be shy when wear sexy dresses, keep in mind that you should leave a bright side to your friends, especially to your husband.

Then you should follow the below advices:

1. Careful to measure your bridal dress. You should know how to make you look sexy. For example, if you look to look perfect and formal, you can wear full length wedding dresses. However, if you prefer free wedding, you can try short wedding gowns instead.

2. Choose what kind of dresses is very important. Usually there are many kinds of dress you can select, like vintage, mermaid, beach and etc. If you don't know which kind of dress best suits you, you can ask local bridal shop for help.

3. Take care about your figure. If you are very tall and slender, you can choose mermaid bridal or a line bridal gowns that can highlight your figure.

4. Take consideration on the colors and fabrics of your bridal dress. In cold weather, you can choose thick materials like taffeta and satin. In summer, you can choose white dress to make you feel cool. And color is also very important, you should choose colors adapt the theme of the wedding and the brides' complexion.
