Wedding is a life changing point in anyone's life as it comes with joy and responsibilities. People dream about a memorable wedding and want to cherish all the related ceremonies as well.

Indian wedding has lots of colors and aspects related to it as it is considered a holy ceremony. It unites people and two families together. There are so many detailed ceremonies attached with wedding ceremonies in Indian wedding and most of them would like to follow all the traditional values and rituals in a wedding.

What if you are getting married abroad? There are high numbers of Indians who have settled abroad like in USA and UK but they are still connected to their Indian culture and values and they want to get married with all the Indian rituals. Also, it is the family and elders in the family who want the ceremonies to be performed in exactly like the Indian rituals. But it is very difficult to make all the arrangements by yourself when you are abroad.

You must look for an Indian priest first who knows all the rituals related to Indian wedding. Those holy chants are not just another chant; these have values and hold so much importance in Indian wedding.

Next must be to look for a cloth store or an Indian dress designer who can stitch or suggest perfect wedding dresses for bride and groom. The other family member can also take help from. Indian traditional clothes are very much in trend and wedding dress for bride and groom hold so much detailing. This is the reason you must take help from the one who has fair knowledge of Indian wedding attire.

The next is the food. Food is the major attraction for all Indian wedding and it becomes all the more important to present authentic Indian food when you are planning to get married abroad. People in other parts of the world like in UK and USA are very much impressed by the Indian cuisine and presenting the authentic Indian food in your wedding can win your guest's heart. There are already so many Indian restaurants abroad that also provide catering services. You can take help from such hotel and restaurants for your wedding as well.

Wedding decoration must also be very authentic and Indian. Use of beautiful flowers and color is to attract and make an impression on guests is one major point.

All such things are required if you are planning an Indian wedding in other parts of the world and if you find it difficult to manage all by yourself then comes the role of a wedding planner or rather to say an Indian wedding planner who can arrange everything on your behalf even if the wedding is being planned abroad.
