Everyone want to make nice wedding planning. So as a wedding planner I am suggesting to you some useful tips which will be helpful for your wedding planning within your budget. I am special giving suggest to all my brides, when planning your wedding at first decide how much you will be spent and according the budget you have to do work.

Some tips for wedding planning within your budget. Buy different-different of votive candle holders. According to my ideas lookout and pick up candle holders where ever they might find them, or if there is a party or craft store, check out the store's inventory and don't be scared to mix and match color, shape or size.

In wedding planning, it will take more time like 3 months and more so that gives you plenty of time to find a variety of votive candle holders. Go for an eclectic look, you don't necessarily have to have the similar type of votive holder on each table. You can use candlelight for looking attractive decoration and make beautiful. Also, you can mix and match simple votive holders with ones that are more pretty and detailed.

You can make it better if you use variety of flowers like roses and many others bunch of flowers and you can purchase easily to any vendors. You can also arrange individual loose flowers on the table or you can use ribbon and tie these loose flowers together in bunches.

Also try to do some unique so that you can attract to your guest like your relative and friend. May be they will remember it whole life. Setting up relatives pictures at the sign-in or reception table is another idea especially if you can find pictures that date back two to three generations, all of which were taken on their relevant wedding days.

Now I hope you have gotten some useful ideas for wedding planning according to your budget. Again, as a wedding planner I will suggest to you before wedding planning you have to consider about all thing that where how much money you should have to spent?

But if you are feeling it is difficult task then you can hire a professional organizer for wedding planning they can make it better within your budget.
