Video chat the revised figures for growth in the third quarter of the u. S. Economy and the currency market have no intention of nation. The first reported two. 5%, according to revised figures. The united states financial system. The u. Video chat s. Commerce department on an annual basis in july. Only 2% in the quarter rose to the show. The reason for this may be that the liquidation of inventories used to meet unexpected consumer demand and production could not keep up. Because it was an unexpected demand. Thus, while consumer demand may have shown some signs of a turn. The production could not be solved at the same rate. Video chat this is by forex trading professionals to share the same emotions.

However, unexpected consumer demand. Which could be considered a positive sign. Can be reduced by the fact that income growth in the u. S. Seems to be slowing. Slowdown in income growth implies that american consumers' purse strings are likely to remain tight and consumer spending constrained to remain. Video chat gross domestic income, which rose by 4. 3% from october last year and march this year slowed the growth rate of 2. 8% in april to september of this year. Is not a positive indicator of slowdown in revenue growth trends. You can bring down consumer spending. Cake is made up of almost 70% of consumer spending in the u.

S. Video chat economy, growth in general may be limited as a result of this phenomenon. One reason for the slackening growth in income. Cash hoarding by firms seems. This is due to the total national income. The highest since 1950 is represented by a share in the profits. Uncertainty, business and economic environment may be the cause of convincing the company to hoard cash. video chat confirms this trend is that the employee compensation accounted for the lowest proportion in the gdp of the country since 1955. Video chat the latest data from the ministry of commerce show that consumer spending rose by only 0. 1% in october, following an increase of 0. 7% in september. At the same time. Savings rates have fallen to 3. 8% in the third quarter of this year. Which is the lowest since 2007. Video chat this is in line with the theory that companies are accumulating money and not consumers as consumer spending. And savings are prevented. In the above-mentioned revenue growth slowdown is likely to limit the pace of recovery in the u. S. Economy faster, this is something that is superfluous at this point. Need to loosen his belt and with their stakeholders to share their profits. Especially employees, to form a mass consumer. More consumers will be able to spend only if the u. S. Economy to start the wheels turn faster and galvanize the process of economic benefit to companies and consumers. Policy makers should also encourage the police craft carefully targeted to have a galvanizing impact of the economy such that the stimulus money does not find its way into speculative investments. Stimulus package should focus on employment. As well as covering the basic to the american economy around. Employment generation will lead to increases in disposable income and consumer spending.
