As you plan to enter the new phase of your life, the very first thing that you like to have is people whom you love. You definitely want the most special people of your life to be a part of this special occasion that will change your life forever. Therefore, wedding invitation ensembles will play a crucial role in inviting these friends, family or special people of your life. The very first thing that will give a glimpse of your wedding to your guests will be the wedding invitations and thus you would like to have them as unique as possible. Invitations are actually a great way to reflect your thoughts as well as your fiancÃ©eâ€™s in what you think about this new life and how presence of the guests will make you feel blessed. So how can you choose the wedding invitations perfectly and as per your preference?

Prepare a guest list

The very thing that you should get started with is the list of the guests that you want to be present with you on that special day. This should begin ideally one month or even before the wedding. It takes time and in case you forgot someone, you can list it and make up for it, provided you have begun the process early. Therefore preparation of the guest list is an important part for you.

Now, that you have prepared your guest list, you would know how many invitations need to be printed. Ideally, it is advised that you must go for additional 25 or 30 wedding invitation ensembles because like it is said, if you forgot to jot down the name of some guests, you will not have to worry about it last minute. Additional cards should therefore be ordered.

Go by the theme

Everyone has a wedding theme in mind. This theme can either be based on certain kinds of designs, or on certain colors. Others might want the theme related to the seasons. It would be an extremely wonderful idea to go for the invitation cards as per your wedding theme. It would not just look aligned with the entire wedding theme, but will also be a peep for the guests as to what your wedding would be like.

For most of the couples, there are some common colors or designs that they incorporate in their themes and these can be red or white, maybe even purple. As far as designs are concerned, bells, flowers and hearts are some of the common themes. But if you have planned for a theme that is out of the box, you can go for it as well.

Choose the right words and right fonts

Once it is decided what your wedding invitation ensembles would be like, you should also go for the right words selection, which can either be formed by you or your fiancÃ©e or may be suggested by the company from which you will get the orienting done. Choosing the right words and font is as important as everything else.

Just like the wedding invitation ensembles, you can plan things for the birth announcements. Things go same for both these invitations, with an exception to the theme and wordings.
