Article published on December 12th 2011 | Writing

Zhang San went to a deep well to carry water. Suddenly, a dazzling golden apple floated to him and fell into the well with a splash. Seeing this, his mouth was widened because of shock. The golden apple seemed rolling before his eyes, and becoming bigger and bigger just like a small hill. Soon, the golden hill seemed have become a magnificent palace, in which Zhang San had lived enjoying the happiness of leisure. And then, his eyes blurred, so did his mind. As another splash occurred, he jumped into the deep well. But he was not able to swim, so he was drowned soon.

Li Si went to a deep well to carry water. Suddenly, a dazzling golden apple floated to him and fell into the well with a splash. Seeing this, Li Si thought: â€œThis time I will have fortune!â€• So he took off clothes and jumped into the water to fish up the apple. Li was a good swimmer, so he gained the apple very soon. Since he had got a large fortune, he built a luxurious house and lived a rich life. But he did nothing then because of this and became a complete slacker; his sons and daughters lived a good life, and they also became slackers. Before long, because they did not work, they all lost the ability to survive. Later, they have run through the golden apple and the house was also sold to live on. Finally, the whole family became beggars.

Wang Wu went to a deep well to carry water. Suddenly, a dazzling golden apple floated to him and fell into the well with a splash. Wang continued to carry water as if he didnâ€™t see it. He was happily humming a tune and left the well with water. At this time, the golden apple jumped out of the well and landed on Wangâ€™s shoulder pole, dancing. As long as Wang stretched his hand, he could grasp it. But he didnâ€™t do like this but got rid of the golden apple and went home with water. Later, Wang was still living happily and people can heard him humming a tune everywhere. Someone asked him why not seize the golden apple, and he said: â€œThat's not my own, so even if I own it, my heart will not have peace. Besides, maybe I will lose happiness.â€•

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/writing-articles/when-the-golden-apple-floated-to-you.htm - Article Side

Anita - About Author:
Since the official release of new MMO games, many players are fond of playing games online. So there must be potential business in it. Do you want to make more a wow gold? It is quite a good idea.

Article Keywords:
Well, golden apple, float, splash, fortune, slacker, water, dazzling, fall, hum

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!